Pittsburgh's Good Shepherds Again

(In Menace No. 183 we published an article dealing with the floure of the Good Shepherd, at Pittsburg Pa., taken from the Elarpson, published at that place. A subsequent issue of the same paper gives more light on the same question, and we publish the article in full below.—Editor.)

Another interesting fact is found in the statement of Dr. Glynn, physician weeks the Pennaylvania legisla-ture will take up for consideraation the many requests con-tained in the regular appropriation bill. One of the items is for the sum of $40,- one for the Home of the Good Shepherd, frond.

Troy Hill, North Side, Pittaburgh.

In view of the facts contained in the article published in the last issue of the Harpoon and the additional inforcourts, to visit all institutions

His request, however, was not granted, lines and within the city limits. Suca

OME time during the next few of the home. Dr. Glynn, physician of the home. Dr. Glynn stated to the councilmanic committee that fortyaeven per cent of the girls in the home were suffering from venereal diseases. Yet these girls, we understand, are worked in the laundry, where towels, clothes and aprone are washed and

The official board of visitation of recommended to the judges that no mation given below, we believe that before any state aid is given to this institution that a full and sweeping investigation of the home would be in vestigation of the home would be in of the Home of the Good Shepherd on account of the January meeting of the board of directors of the Home of the Good Shepherd. John Heckman, of Bellevue, a member, demanded that the minutes of the Door.

of the October session, at which plans several years ago a decision was made were formulated for obtaining the state. to remove the institution from its presappropriation, be read. Heckman had ent location on Troy Hill. Search was been unable to attend this meeting and made for a site containing not less than wanted to know what had transpired, cloven acres, accessible to street car

HE CIRLS WORK FOR ME

niaM" depois

AND FOR THE GOOD SHEPHENDS

the board refusing to allow the minutes a place was found on Lincoln avenue, to be read. Heckman and another di-rector immediately handed in their ing the intention to remove there all resignations. Mr. Heckman for a long the inmates of the Troy Hill institu-time was secretary of the board, and it was his father who founded the home ings on the Lincoln avenue site were

As is the custom in all "educational" girls were taken there, and now sevources it is learned that this adjunct investigated. Its doors should be wide open to official and private visitation rating on equally as profitable mar-

Inmates."

East End home.

institutions, the home issues a pros- eral years later, the Troy Hill home is and even then, it sometimes happens that someone finds a little error, the result is that plate is destruyed and a new one made. This much for the mechanical and material work.

When it comes to the matter to be used in the paper, the utmost care is taken. The editors (and Menace readers will agree that they are not fools) use every means possible in their solection and writing. Every thought that might in any way, displease those for whom it is intended, or tend to injure the cause for which the Menace stands, is cut out. Every effort a made to crowd the most into the smallest space, and to get only facts, to secure reliable statements and undeniable arguments is the never-ending effort of the entire staff. It is not an infrequent occurrence for an antire article to be "killed" because some thought or shadow of a thought is discovered that might offend or offer opportunity for wrong interpretation, or because the trend of the article may be portunity for wrong interpretation, or because the trend of the article may be found weak in some particular. There is no disposition to "slay and slaugh-

found weak in some particular. There is no disposition to "slay and slaughter" on the part of the editors. While the mere extrement of facts may many times seem harsh and severs, there is no deep-stated rancor harbored or manifested by the editors; thoir disposition is kindly, but the truth must not suffer violence though strong terms be used.

The writer has been intimately accurainted with the publishers and editors of the Menace for nearly a year and he can conscientiously say to his several hundred friends now on the subscription list, you ought to get on the Firing Line and help houst the subscription to a million. There is nothing to fear, for the men who are behind this enterprise are men of honor and soundest integrity. Everyone stands high in the exteem of this entire community. They are not grafters or scoundrels, but men of intelligence, large ambitingua, exalted deaires, and their consuming purpose is to around the American people to a realization of the dangers of the Roman political machine and inaugurate a revolution that shall salist every lover of liberty and freedom and sweep from American soil avery vestige of deceit and disloyalty freedom and sweep from American soil every vestige of deceit and disloyalty and educate every American that it is nobier to be loyal to our own governtent than it is to owe or own alletentate. Again, I repeat, get in on the ground floor: begin now, today; associate your-selves with the wonder of the twentieth century: enlist your friends and neighcentury; enlist your friends and neigh-born; be a committee of one to send in a big list of sube for the Menace, and when we shall have won the greatest victory in the world's history and Amorica is free; when Reme shall no longer sit in high places to diotate, de-ceive and destroy, then shall we, with every patriot who has "fought the good fight." bear "plumes of victory" and thank God for the Menace.

J. F. COSS.

The news is being advertised by Romish papers that the Jesuit professor of science and director of the seismic observatory, has been appoint ed special observer by the government and will assume charge of the new station which is to be established for observation purposes on the George town university grounds. Also, that the Jesuit Priest Oldenbach, "astronomer of St. Ignatius college, is at work on a new device which will keep accurate tab on the sun, will show its coming and going, and record exactly the length of time it shines." Isn't it a lucky thing that these men didn't live at the time of the three infallible sopes-Paul V, Urban VIII and Alexsopes—Paul V. Urban vill and such ander VII, who condemned all such scientists to the stake? In the four-teenth century, Peter, of Albano, escaped the Inquisition only by dying cause he taught that people lived on the opposite side of the earth, and in 1327, D'Ascoli, an astronomer lost his professorship at Bologna and was burned alive at Florence. On account of these holy popes, great truths had to fairly sneak into the world. All books which affirmed the motion of the earth were interdicted. Brune died at the stake, Galileo was imprisoned and tortured for seven long years. Pope Paul V. issued a decree affirming that the doctrine, "the double motion of the earth about its axis and about the sun is false," etc., and this decree condemned the work of Copernicus. And now in our time Pope Plus is doing his utmost to crush all new truths which, if encouraged, would help the common people to more wisdom and happiness. They yow the church is unchangeable; what it was, then, it is right now!

The following extracts are samples of good Roman Catholic "literature!" Precedence must be given that of the Denver Catholic Register which says: "Some folks can kneel by the hour in a church, giving way to weak senti-ment—and avoiding housework." (This means women.) "Some go to God only because no one else will listen." Again, "The poor spend too much time looking at the wealthy.

. . There should be more said about the dignity of poverty." "The Mexican peon will not work, he is satisfied with a bean diet and a siesta!" (The Mexican priests according to reliable reports care more for the slesta but want the peons to furnish them with more than a bean diet! Catch a priest living on beans!) The Catholic News runs off "literature" like this: "Old subscriber wishes prayers for three non-Catholic wives." "Genufiect on both knees when visiting repositories" and "don't forget to always contribute to the church funds," says another.

Father Phelan terminates a long whine on mixed marriage and divorce by expressing the hope for redress from the state; "Will not the state recognize a marriage contract terminable only with the death of one of the parties? The laws do not hesitate to recognize a life tenure of property: it puts people in prison for life; we see no reason why a contract signed by both parties to a mixed marriage blnding both to live together as man and wife during life would not be upheld by our courts." Poor old Bachelor What does he know of the subject? He mentions marriage, life tenure in property and imprisonment all in one breath. The pagan idea was that matrimony is like a castle be-sieged, all those who are in want out and those who are out want in; therefore eunuch guardians of harem morals were placed on the watch. Had evident now that we will have to in- coal-men will give up. crease our force.

While the above encouraging report as to the growth in the Book Department may not prove such a pleasing bit of news to our Romish friends we joice with us.

Surely there is no better way for American citizens to acquaint them-selves with the facts concerning the nonstrous impositions and hypocrisies by which the priests have preyed upon the masses for so many years, then by becoming familiar with their history.

There is an imperative need for an effective way to combat Rome's too evident desire to "make America Catholic." As usual the Menace is equal to the emergency, and in addition to a nation-wide circulation of our paper, we have felt the need of circulating books which deal fearlessly with the great question of Romanism, exposing much of its designs and intrigue which our limited space will not permit our publishing to the world.

In order that our books may be with in the reach of all we are offering them at the lowest possible price, and with but small margin of profit to us, as our only ambition in propagating the sale of these anti-Catholic books is to furth-er the work of the Menace, and the purpose for which it was launched.

We must awaken now to the great national issue which confronts us! Rally our forces together. We can Remember, we are intelligent Americans whose intellects have never Americans whose intellects have never been dwarfed by the subtle and stupe-fying effects of Roman superstition. We appeal to you to help us in our ef-fort to help those less fortunate than we are. Help us to scatter literature broadcast!

Because of the unsuspecting and painfully ignorant condition of many of Rome's adherents, it enables those in authority to work in an entirely underground way, but if brought into the light of reason their strength would be wonderfully diminished.

If we can but get our books into the hands of Rome's benighted follow-ers who have been denied the right to interpret the word of God for them-selves, and who little realize the political aspirations of the church of Rome—our work will not have been in

This, then, is the object of this de partment, in connection with the Menace, to break the chains of slavery and superstition-to conquer ignorance by reason-and to do our part to make those who bow to the supremacy of the pope, the intelligent men and women God intended them to be.

Look over our book list, we are sure to have listed there some book or books which will meet with your requirements. If not, write us, and we will use our best endeavors to procure the book you have in mind. Our wish is to serve you, and thus we will cooperate in furnishing to the world the history of Romanism, both past and

THE MARTYR IN BLACK.

Miss Anna M. Lowry, Author of the Martyr in Black Praises the Men-ace, the "Boys" on the Firing Line, and Thanke Her Benefactors.

My Dear Menace Readers, Workers and Patriots:

It is with great pleasure that I avail myself of this privilege of thanking you, through this special edition, the second anniversary of the dauntless Menace, for your generous aid in my struggle for justice and vindication. I am exceedingly grateful to the brave "boya" on the Firing Line for their help in time of need. I also greatly admire their heroism in scorning to be a race of slaves. I wish particularly to call the atheroic act of the noble Menace in championing my cause when I, an American, was boycotted and cruelly treated by a foreign "prince of the blood," and his clique. As a reward I hope you will raise the circulation of the Menace into millions, as there is much good yet to be done, and this is the best way to do it. I am especially grateful to those who have addressed me personally, giving assurances of sympathy, prayers and support, and who have purchased my book, "The Martyr in Black."

No one knows the spirit of Romanism like those who have suffered, trying to correct her abuses and failing, have been compelled to withdraw in the interest of peace and safety.

Again thanking you all for your courage and kindness in my behalf, I am, sincerely yours. ANNA M. LOWRY.

"The Martyr in Black."

TO THE STRANGER.

If you receive a sample copy of this paper it is an invitation to you to subscribe. The price is only 50 cents a year, and you can even have it for 25 cents if you will accure three othfore eunuch guardians of harem morals were placed on the watch. Had Father Phelan lived in those days he would have been chief guardian eunuch of a sultan's scraglio—maybe. tor you, and you will receive no bill for subscription, for no papers are mailed on credit and it stops when

With the Booksmiths

Booksmiths

Our Book Department is fast become in connection with the Menace. A few months past this department was very small, and consequently but few orders were put out. Five months ago our output of books did not exceed 200 per day, but we are pleased to report for the isst three to four weeks an average of 700 per day.

In order to meet this increased de-sissippi fint bont, spinning around, make the control of the meet this increased de-sissippi fint bont, spinning around, make the control of the foture. These two worthies are duplicates of the bluffers Mark Twath heard on the Mississippi fint bont, spinning around, make the control of the foture. When Cardinal Parley said that it ! In order to meet this increased demand we are kept constantly order ing wild peases and telling how they lar, and, while a few months as; the could fight—all for the sole purpose of work in this department was not sufficient to keep one person busy, it is jewelry is the last thing these petti-

> In his History of Civilimation, Guirot, the Catholic historian, says: When the question of political se-curities came into debate between ower and liberty, when any stop was taken to establish a system of perma nent institutions which might effects ally protect liberty from the invasions of power in general, the church always arranged herself on the side of despottem." Some of the notable instances are the interference of the pope in absolving King John, of England. from his promise to grant the libertles conferred by the Great Charter; the opposition of Rome to the establishnent of the German empire, united Italy and the republics of France and Portugal; papal recognition of the southern confederacy, etc. Since the only way of judging of the future is by our knowledge of the past we may exagainst the liberties of the people.

Styles in saints change just as do tashions in dress. Old ones are being laid on the shelf while new ones are created or older ones revived. Saints Blaise, Expedit, and Rita of the Impossible are the popular saints today, and church papers and societies put Sure Remedy and church papers and societies put Sure Remedy them just as do the promoters of Feather-Loom Skirts or Heinz's Baked Beans. And it pays. When Thomas Beckett, of England was declared a saint, the priests and monks spread the news of the miracles wrought by his bones, they raised his body once a year, the day being made a religious holiday, and indulgences were graphed was that during one year the saint received offerings of $5,000, the Virgin received only $20, while God's alter got not a cent!

vile business." The Catholic Extension ociety, which has for its slogan, "Make America Catholic," sets up its missions wherever it thinks it can most profitably whoop it up for Rome, and priests and other missioners get the most of the immense sums received by the sowills bequeathing money to the Catholic Extension society.

A number of priests have forbidden the use of flowers at Catholic funerals because "unusual amounts are often spent for flowers." A branch of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of Amertea, Arkansas, have shown whither this movement tends in their vote to "discontinue the placing of flowers, things which wither and die and are of no value, upon the coffins of our members, and in lieu thereof appropriate the sum of $5.00 heretofore used for the purchase of flowers to be used as an offering for as many masses as pos-sible." These priestly confidence men will never object to the unusual amounts often spent by the faithful for masses; instead, their rule is—soak them for all you can get!

"Order requires that the men should rule over the women. Nature says so; the nature of women concedes the truth. All true womanbood bows to the superior authority of men." This speech was not made by a savage of prehistoric days whose superiority over woman lay in his ability to chase her with a club and beat her into submission. It is the voice of the church speaking through Priest Phelan who was once run in for drunkenly accousting a lady whom be passed on the street with, "Where are you going," Baby?" Womanhood no lorger bows to the "superior authority" of a drunken obscene priesthood, and Phelan's utterances are but the belchings of stale whiskey and beer!

In several large cities of the U. S. an investigation is being carried on as to the cause and cure of female immorality, and the conclusion generally reached is that low wages is the root of the trouble. Among church papers, the chief dissenting voice is the Western Watchman, which scoffs at the idea that low wages has anything to do with the case and declares that "laziness and a low moral tone—but chiefly laziness-are the causes of the downfall of women." How would this Romish wolf thrive on the weekly $5.00 wage of hundreds of Chicago shops girls? It wouldn't even pay for his whiskey

The king of Spain has issued a decree calling out the members of religious orders to serve under the flag with the army. It is said that violent protestations have been made against the decree by the Catholic press and a demonstration against it is proposed. The priestly parasites with to five on the fat of the land and enjoy all the protection and privileges of govern-ment and society without bearing any of the burdens—ongaging in productive labor, supporting families, paying

GOV TEXALS PASSAGE AND DESCRIPTION OF PASSAGES AND PASSAGES.

> TAPE-WORK $4 Per Month Buys This Visible Oliver Typewriter FREE TRIAL

Less Than Agents' Prices We put the heat typewriter in the world right by ;

for Superfluous Hair Free

Burn the Skin

From the secretary of the Canadian Catholic Extension society comes a stude or bust I will prove to you it can loud how because the Baptists are be destroyed completely in just a few procelytising in Catholic communities. "which is satan's work out and out."

No irritation, no hurning no description of the process to th and in brotherly apirit he refers to them as "busy-body, Bible-bearing no matter how tender the skin, and Paptist bounders" and assures his best of all it takes the hair off for readers that they are "paid to do this keeps. It doesn't matter how old or keeps. It doesn't matter how old or tough the growth is, my secret has worked wonders for every lady who has tried it. I will send a liberal trial bottle free to any lady writing for it. You place yourself under no obligaciety. Following the secretary's hy-drophobic article is a blank form for the coupon below.

FREE TREATMENT. 9376 Arina Burton, Mo-rec-tire Co., 251 H 454 St. I enclose a two-cent stamp to help cover malling Send me at once a free trial bettle that will about

This Washer Must Pay For Itself.

I didn's know are thing about house mutch. And I didn's know the many thing about houses witch. So I told him I wanted to 12g the horse for a counth. He said "All rights, but you no first, and I'll give you hard your messey if the horse isn't I'll right. Well, I didn't That that, I was arrain the horse wash't "All right and that I might have for whister for use money of the things of the horse wash't "All right" and that I might have for whister for use money fit I many fit I may be the fit of the things of the horse parted with the brewe although I and that I might have to whates for me panetry if I mane paried with if. He I didn't have the brown although I wanted B hedly. Now the series although I wanted B hedly. Now see I make Washing Machines—the "laste Gravity" Washer. And I caid to muself, lets of people may think about the Pought I wanted the man win muself the man win musel it is now that I'd never know, brauges they wouldn't will sell my weathing Machines and the man win musel it is now weathing Machines and the series wouldn't will be a me weather wouldn't my wouldn't will be a my weathing Machines and serve a half withing in the office of the series of the series was the series of the s 10.00

Our "1986 Clearity" Warfart that a child can run it about more, and h then were the nice lived buttons the war at 15 hour debries copy wave, of the clearing like a force po

No. eatd I to myself, I will do with me y' Washer what I wanted the man to rown. Only I wome valt for people to for dust, and I'm make good the offer a Let goe send you a "1000 Crarty." Wather on a month's free trial. I'll pay the freight out of my own profile, and if you dan't want the machine give you changed it a nomin. I'll take I have anni pay the freight too. Sizein't that is fair remark. Any i'll Doern't da prove that the "1900 most be all that I sen it hat

And you can par the our of what is will part he out of what is will part he beauth out to a fer and tear on the electhes alone. As it is contained to the electhes alone. As it is contained to the electhes alone. As it is contained to the electhes alone of the electhes alone. As a supplied that the electhes alone of the electhes alone of the electhes alone of the electhes alone. As a supplied the electhes alone of t

why it shouldn't when one considers The Menace

ectus showing what the "educational"

features are and other facts of interest concerning the place. In the last report, it is given that the cost of maintenance is two dollars per day per girl. On such representations the state is petitioned for aid. The fact is, however, that the cost of maintenance per girl, has always been about never more than two dollars.

one dollar and a half per week and

The laundry, which the Mother Superior told the councilmanic committee earned but $1,500 per $2,000 a year, in 1906 showed grass reseipts of $7,000, leaving a net profit from the laundry of $17,000. From reliable of the home at the present time is operating on equally as profitable margins as in 1996. There is no reason

The expenditures were but

As It Looks to An Employe

BY OUR PROOFREADER.

HE 600,000 subscribers to the Men. ace can only see what the grint-ed pages reveal. We, who are en-gaged in the actual work of producing it, laboring on the inside from day to day, see and know many things that are impossible for others to see and know. We are thrown into close and know. We are thrown into close proximity with the management in many ways and see the machinery as it gildes smoothly along in the various departments.

Of all the employes, outside of the editorial staff, the proofreader, per-haps, has a better chance than any other to see it all. He comes in contact with the editors; is the first to get a comprehensive insight into the purposes and aims of both the editorial staff and the business management through the "core" as it comes to bin for the tails. For instance, a subscriber writes that he does not receive his paper. The complaint no sooner reaches the "kick" desk till a well trained force of people are set to work to locate the trouble. It may take a few moments and it may take several house had be seen that much time and effort are expended along this line alone. There are many other matters of like character coming up all the time, and even the smallest things are not slighted. If the management were caring only for the money, the larger things would receive attention and the smaller ones, would be neglected. I have known of a half-dozen experts spending an hour or more trying to ascertain why a single subscriber did not receive his paper. In many instances the actual expense of time thus expended exceeds the amount received. This careful adherence to a well developed system runs throughout the entire establishment. If a plate is imperfect in the slightest degree, a new one is made, even though and the business management through gree, a new one is made, even though the "copy" as it comes to him from day it costs dollars and does not produce a the "copy" as it comes to him from day to day. He has a chance to get first-hand, the current of thought and the intentions of those whose brains and goss press can do it. If a name getu missamp of readers, By frequent necessary conferences with the editors he feels the brain-throbs and partakes of the experiences underlying the intellectual activities of those who are the essential producers; he knows something of the endiess worry, labor and unceasing care, not only of the editorial but of every other part of the complex organ.

But it is with the work in my own entiless worry, labor and unceasing care, not only of the editorial but of every other part of the complex organism.

Because of this favorable position he occupies, the proofreader will attempt to give the great Menace constituency an inside view of the establishment as he sees it:

While the writer does not pretend to know all the details of the business end, he can truthfully say that it never has been his privilege to know of any of er enterprise in which there was more conscience used than there is here. It would surprise most of the friends of the Menace to know what time and expense are given to little de-trouble. It may take a few moments and it may take several hours, but there is no let-up till the job is done. When it is known that several hundred "kicks" come in each week, it can be seen that much time and effort are complete, only a few of the smaller already over-crowded lot, and preparing to erect more. This director said:

"The girls are already penned up like cattle and get little or no fresh air

now. If they put up these new build-ings, as they intend doing, I pity the

It is understood that the Lincoln avenue home is large enough to take care of the majority of the girls confined at the Troy Hill institution. They are not placed there, however, probably because there is no laundry at the

There are many other matters concerning the management of the Troy Hill home which should be thoroughly mediately abolish many of the rules and regulations at present in effect.